

STATE OF WISCONSIN Division of Hearings and Appeals

In the Matter of

Rock County Human Services, Petitioner

vs.

██████████, Respondent

DECISION

Case #: FOF - 206866

Pursuant to a petition filed November 16, 2022, under 7 C.F.R. §273.16, to review a decision by Rock County Human Services to disqualify ██████████ from receiving FoodShare benefits (FS) for a period of one year, a hearing was held on January 4, 2023, by telephone.

The issue for determination is whether the respondent committed an Intentional Program Violation (IPV).

PARTIES IN INTEREST:

Petitioner:

Rock County Human Services

By: Laura Middleton

Respondent:

██████████ (Did not appear)

Division of Hearings and Appeals

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. The respondent (CARES # ██████████) is a resident of Illinois who received FS benefits in Rock County 2021 and 2022.
2. The respondent received FS during 2021. FS were discontinued in September, 2021 because the agency received return mail and usage was in Illinois. He contacted the agency on October 11, 2021 and explained that he was homeless in Rock County but used his mother's place in ██████████ to store his food. FS were reopened. He repeated that explanation to a county worker on November 11, 2021.

3. A Rock County worker spoke to the respondent's probation agent on November 12, 2021. The agency stated that he lived and worked in Illinois, with employment at [REDACTED]. After a verification letter was sent, the respondent contacted the county worker and stated that the [REDACTED] job did not start because he did not have transportation. FS were continued.
4. In April, 2022, while processing a renewal, the county worker noted that all FS usage was in Illinois. The worker contacted the Illinois Department, and was informed that the respondent had an open medical assistance case in that state since August, 2021. An investigation followed, and the landlord of the Illinois address he used with the Illinois agency confirmed that he lived there since August, 2021.
5. On November 21, 2022, the petitioner prepared an Administrative Disqualification Hearing Notice alleging that the respondent falsely reported being a Wisconsin resident. The respondent has no prior IPV findings.
6. The respondent failed to appear for the scheduled January 4, 2023 IPV hearing and did not provide any good cause for said failure to appear.

DISCUSSION

An intentional program violation of the FoodShare program occurs when a recipient intentionally does the following:

1. makes a false or misleading statement, or misrepresents, conceals or withholds facts;
or
2. commits any act that constitutes a violation of the Food Stamp Act, the Food Stamp Program Regulations, or any Wisconsin statute for the purpose of using, presenting, transferring, acquiring, receiving, possessing or trafficking of FoodShare benefits or QUEST cards.

FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook, §3.14.1; see also 7 C.F.R. §273.16(c) and Wis. Stat., §§946.92(2).

An intentional program violation can be proven by a court order, a diversion agreement entered into with the local district attorney, a waiver of a right to a hearing, or an administrative disqualification hearing. FoodShare Wisconsin Handbook, §3.14.1. The petitioner can disqualify only the individual found to have committed the intentional violation; it cannot disqualify the entire household. Those disqualified are ineligible to participate in the FoodShare program for one year for the first violation, two years for the second violation, and permanently for the third violation. Although other family members cannot be disqualified, their monthly allotments will be reduced unless they agree to make restitution within 30 days of the date that the FS program mails a written demand letter. 7 C.F.R. §273.16(b).

7 C.F.R. §273.16(e)(4) provides that the hearing shall proceed if the respondent cannot be located or fails to appear without good cause. The respondent did not appear or claim a good cause reason for not attending the hearing. Therefore I must determine whether the respondent committed an IPV based solely on the evidence that the petitioner presented at hearing.

To establish that an FS recipient has committed an IPV, the petitioner has the burden to prove two separate elements by clear and convincing evidence. The recipient must have: 1) committed; and 2) intended to commit a program violation per 7 C.F.R. §273.16(e)(6). In Kuehn v. Kuehn, 11 Wis.2d 15 (1959), the court held that:

Defined in terms of quantity of proof, reasonable certitude or reasonable certainty in ordinary civil cases may be attained by or be based on a mere or fair preponderance of the evidence. Such certainty need not necessarily exclude the probability that the contrary conclusion may be true. In fraud cases it has been stated the preponderance of the evidence should be clear and satisfactory to indicate or sustain a greater degree of certitude. Such degree of certitude has also been defined as being produced by clear, satisfactory, and convincing evidence. Such evidence, however, need not eliminate a reasonable doubt that the alternative or opposite conclusion may be true....

Kuehn, 11 Wis.2d at 26.

Wisconsin Jury Instruction – Civil 205 is also instructive. It provides:

Clear, satisfactory and convincing evidence is evidence which when weighed against that opposed to it clearly has more convincing power. It is evidence which satisfies and convinces you that “yes” should be the answer because of its greater weight and clear convincing power. “Reasonable certainty” means that you are persuaded based upon a rational consideration of the evidence. Absolute certainty is not required, but a guess is not enough to meet the burden of proof. This burden of proof is known as the “middle burden.” The evidence required to meet this burden of proof must be more convincing than merely the greater weight of the credible evidence but may be less than beyond a reasonable doubt.

Further, the McCormick treatise states that “it has been persuasively suggested that [the clear and convincing evidence standard of proof] could be more simply and intelligibly translated to the jury if they were instructed that they must be persuaded that the truth of the contention is highly probable.” 2 McCormick on Evidence §340 (John W. Strong gen. ed., 4th ed. 1992).

To find that an IPV was committed, the trier of fact must derive from the evidence a firm conviction as to the existence of each of the two elements even though there may be a reasonable doubt as to their existence.

To prove the second element, i.e., intention, there must be clear and convincing evidence that the FS recipient intended to commit the IPV. The question of intent is generally one to be determined by the trier of fact. State v. Lossman, 118 Wis.2d 526 (1984). There is a general rule that a person is presumed to know and intend the probable and natural consequences of his or her own voluntary words or acts. See John F. Jelke Co. v. Beck, 208 Wis. 650 (1932); 31A C.J.S. Evidence §131. Intention is a subjective state of mind to be determined upon all the facts. Lecus v. American Mut. Ins. Co. of Boston, 81 Wis.2d 183 (1977). Thus there must be clear and convincing evidence that the FS recipient knew that the act or omission was a violation of the FS Program but committed the violation anyway.

Based upon the record before me, I find that the petitioner has established by clear and convincing evidence that the respondent intentionally violated FS program rules, and that this violation was the first such violation committed by the respondent. A recipient is required to provide correct and truthful information in all applications and renewals. See 7 C.F.R. §273.2(b)(1)(i). Wis. Stat., §946.92(2)(a) provides that it is a violation of the FS program to make false or misleading statements to program officials. A person can receive FS only in the state in which he resides. 7 C.F.R. §273.3(a). Here the respondent was telling the Illinois agency that he lived in that state for Medical Assistance, but was telling Wisconsin that he was living there for FS. The landlord’s confirmation that he lived in Illinois, coupled with the exclusive usage of FS in that state, is solid evidence that the respondent lied to the Wisconsin agency about his residency. In addition, although he claimed that he could not work in [REDACTED] because he lacked transportation, this purportedly homeless person somehow was getting to [REDACTED] to purchase groceries. His story is a blatant falsehood. The petitioner correctly seeks to disqualify the respondent from the FS program for one year.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The respondent violated, and intended to violate, the FS program rule specifying that a person can receive FS only in the state in which he lives, pursuant to 7 C.F.R. §273.3(a).
2. The violation specified in Conclusion of Law No. 1 is the first such violation committed by the respondent.

NOW, THEREFORE, it is ORDERED

That the petitioner's determination is sustained, and that the petitioner may make a finding that the respondent committed a first IPV of the FoodShare program and disqualify the respondent from the program for one year, effective the first month following the date of receipt of this decision.

REQUEST FOR A REHEARING ON GROUNDS OF GOOD CAUSE FOR FAILURE TO APPEAR

In instances where the good cause for failure to appear is based upon a showing of non-receipt of the hearing notice, the respondent has 30 days after the date of the written notice of the hearing decision to claim good cause for failure to appear.
